

Lodgit Desk – the easy-to-use hotel software

You want to fulfill your dream of owning your own hotel, camp ground or boarding house? You'll of course want a hotel software that can help you manage your vacancies and guests.

Or maybe you already own a lodging establishment or are renting out a few holiday homes and are currently using the good old pen-and-paper method? You might want to take a look at a digital alternative that can automate a few steps to save valuable time.

Either way, we're happy that you've found Lodgit Desk while researching hotel software! We understand that, instead of searching our website for information, you'd rather spend time on your guests. That's why we've created this brochure that will tell you a few important things about our software!

If you're being referred to Lodgit Desk by one of our existing clients, you'll both receive a finder's fee upon your purchase: a free additional month to your licenses!

Lodgit Desk Hotelsoftware

What is Lodgit Desk?

In short, Lodgit Desk is a software that can be used by a lodging establishment to help managing bookings, correspondence, guest data and more. It saves time by automizing some processes and saving correspondence pieces, such as invoices, in all the right places so that they can be quickly found again. The software is available for Windows and Macintosh and can be used in single user mode or multi user mode.

Features

The main window of Lodgit Desk looks like a classical reservation book. You can quickly see all your rentable units and bookings. Adding or moving bookings around can be done through drag'n'drop (or, if you don't like that, with short cuts and menu bar items).

Our software offers a guest management system, that you can use to view easily the entire guest history (bookings, correspondence, payment reminders, notes).

The lists and statistics offer not only automatically generated lists about the cleaning status of your units or check in and check out lists, but also important reports about occupancy rates, analysis of extra items and a country report (which is mandatory by law in some areas).

You can create all correspondence in more than one language without using any additional text programs. Whenever a correspondence piece is created, the texts from the language management are used according to what you've selected for the guest or booking, saving you valuable time.

You're managing more than one object with different letter numbering and layouts? With Lodgit Desk, that's no problem. You can even quickly hide and show each object in the reservation schedule for easier management.

Additional features

Aside from the vast list of features Lodgit Desk offers all its users, there are a few additional modules that can be added to your user license only if you need and want them.

With our optional module Online-Systems you can integrate an online booking system into your website to receive bookings or just display a calendar that shows when your units are vacant or occupied. Through a booking interface in your Lodgit account you'll be able to create bookings from afar as well.

There is also a Channel Manager Interface that easily lets you send your vacancies and prices to online booking channels (via a Channel Manager) and directly import online bookings from them into Lodgit Desk.

Lodgit Desk also offers interfaces for POS systems using the protocols Gastware® and PROTEL®, as well as for a few locking systems.

You can also connect the Review Portals ReviewExpress by TripAdvisor and CustomerAlliance to your Lodgit Desk to automatically send review requests to your guests.

Using Lodgit Desk in multi user mode also requires an additional module which will unlock the virtual database server.

... and everything else?

Those are only a few features of Lodgit Desk – the most important ones, we think. We recommend that you try out Lodgit Desk for free to check out all its features:

<http://www.lodgit-hotel-software.com/download.html>

You can try out all features in single user mode for 30 days and find out if Lodgit Desk does what you need it to do.

We wanted to make testing as easy as possible, so Lodgit Desk comes equipped with a demo database. That way, you won't have to use your real data for the trial.

Pricing

One very important factor of any software is, of course, its price. We want to keep those as low as possible for all our clients while still providing the best possible service and support. That's why there are only fixed term licenses available for Lodgit Desk. These contain all updates for free as well as free support via email tickets or phone during your license term.

The price of a license depends on its term as well as the number of units managed:

	1 year	2 years	5 years
up to 10 rentable units	170 €	300 €	700 €
up to 20 rentable units	250 €	450 €	1100 €
up to 40 rentable units	440 €	810 €	1950 €
up to 60 rentable units	620 €	1150 €	2800 €
more than 60 rentable units	790 €	1480 €	3500 €

All prices plus 19 % VAT where applicable.

You can add one of our online modules to your license – or add all of them!

Online Module	Price
Online-Systems	€ 1.70 per rentable unit and month calculated from remaining license term Flatrate for 60+ units: max. € 102 per month No commissions for incoming bookings!
Channel Manager	€ 1.20 per rentable unit and month calculated from remaining license term Flatrate for 60+ units: max. € 72 per month No commissions for incoming bookings!

All prices plus 19 % VAT where applicable.

You can decide for yourself how many units you want to unlock the online modules for! You don't have to purchase the modules for every unit you have in your system.

The interface to a review portal can be unlocked for a small monthly fee, regardless of the number of units you maintain:

Module	monthly fee
Interface: Review Portals	€ 9 per month calculated from remaining license term

Activating and unlocking our interfaces and the database server for your license require a one-time fee. Once activated, they will be valid for your license and stay valid even when you renew it later on.

Module	one-time fee
Database Server	350 €
Interface POS Systems Gastware/PROTEL	350 €
Interface Locking Systems	350 €

All prices plus 19 % VAT where applicable.

You can find more information about our pricing in our online shop:

You can also order your license there directly!

Member gets Member

You have found us through a friend that has been using Lodgit Desk for quite a while already? Or you have visited one of our referees in your area to see the software in action?

We want to thank you for your recommendations and referral activity and express our gratitude with a license extension of one month!

What the referee has to do:

In your Lodgit account under “Member gets Member” you will find a code with nine digits. Give this code to the new Lodgit user and ask them to enter it during the order process under “Coupon Code”. After the order was successfully completed, you’ll receive an automatic email letting you know to update the license information in Lodgit Desk.

What the new user has to do:

Your friend or the referee will hand you a code with nine digits that you have to enter during the order process of your license under “Coupon Code”. After the order was successfully completed, the referee will receive an email and the extra month will automatically be added to your license.
